AARP Tax Program

We would like to thank the volunteers who contributed 3,245 hours this tax season serving as facilitators and tax preparer's to the population of our community. This service enables individuals to have their taxes completed for free, a savings of about $75 for an average return. RSVP volunteers are trained in the specifics of tax filing by AARP professionals. A special thanks to Jim Fox and Marcia LaPierre for contributing over 500 hours each this tax year.

Becoming a Reading Buddy

It's not too early to be thinking about the upcoming school year. We need volunteers who would like to become Reading Buddies. Volunteering as a Reading Buddy is a very rewarding opportunity and only requires one hour per week of your time.

Reading Buddies are found at elementary schools through out Clinton County. Volunteers will read to and with students, grades K-5. Volunteers assist students in meeting reading goals and improving reading skills. Schedules are arranged between the volunteer and the teacher. No teaching experience is needed. Just a love for children and a desire to help.

A background check (criminal and child abuse) is required (through RSVP), as well as an orientation class. Individual schools may also have orientations.

These are some of the many comments we have received from teachers with a Reading Buddy in their classroom.

"This program provides a wonderful opportunity for all of the students to read one on one with an adult. It helps to make them a better reader and also gives them more confidence." Ms. Liberty.

"All students received one on one time with our volunteer. She is very loving and supportive. We love her!" Mrs. Thomson.

"Having volunteers is priceless. Having someone as wonderful as Sandy is again priceless. The books are huge. Thank you." Ms. Rabideau.

"Sandy is wonderful. My students love her and always look forward to Wednesday mornings with her. It is great opportunity for students to reread stories or just try something new. The individual attention is very important." Ms. Craig.

"Students enjoy the opportunity to read with the RSVP Volunteer. Often times this is the only "extra" set of ears in a child's day. The fact that the RSVP Buddy shares a gift of reading/listening but also the sharing of a book of the their very own. How grand!" Ms. Crowningshield.

"Students love to work with the RSVP Volunteer. The volunteer is often the only person who listens to the children read besides the classroom teacher. Sherry makes them all feel special." Ms. Dynko

Literacy Volunteers of Clinton County

One of the most important statistics to note is that approximately 16% of Clinton County residents are reading either at or below a third grade reading level. A majority of these residents have the most difficulty performing many basic tasks, tasks that we may take for granted. Some of these tasks include: reading the newspaper, reading and understanding directions for taking prescribed medications, communicating needs to community organizations and local businesses, and something as simple as reading and correctly responding to mail.

R.S.V.P. volunteers have been helping Clinton County residents improve their literacy skills here at Literacy Volunteers for over 25 years. Volunteers with our organization can tutor our students in a one to one setting or in a small group atmosphere. The times and places that volunteers meet with their students are always flexible and the rewards are bountiful. It is not uncommon for a tutor and a learner's academic relationship to blossom into a friendship, in fact, it happens often! So, please volunteer today and come be a part of what R.S.V.P. volunteers have been experiencing for over 25 years.

Our office will be having an Orientation for prospective volunteers on September 3rd, 2008 from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m. We'll be providing an in-depth overview of our program, what resources we have to offer, and how tutors/volunteers can help residents of Clinton County achieve their goals for improving their literacy skills. If you plan on attending please call 518-564-5332.
